of open design on roof. Wings five bays long with low pedimental roofs. Windows throughout double, in vertical banks three stories high.

History: Constructed from large legacy from Maxwell Chambers, of Rowan County. Records of College include payments in July 1860 to J. A. Davis (probably A. J. Davis), architect for drawings, $170, and to C. E. Walker, architect of college building, $1,000. It is assumed that Davis acted as consulting architect.
